DECLARATIONS OF INTEREST

Disclosable Pecuniary Interest (DPI)

Where a Member has a new or registered DPI in a matter under consideration, they must disclose that they have an interest and, unless the Monitoring Officer has agreed in advance that the DPI is a 'Sensitive Interest' explain the nature of that interest at the meeting. The Member must withdraw from the meeting at the commencement of the consideration of any matter in which they have declared a DPI and must not participate in any discussion of, or vote taken on, the matter unless they have been granted a dispensation permitting them to do so. If during the consideration of any item a Member becomes aware that they have a DPI in the matter they should declare the interest immediately and subject to any dispensations, withdraw from the meeting. Members should remember that a finding of a breach of the law with regard to DPI's carries a fine of up to £5,000 and a criminal record.

Other Significant Interest (OSI)

Where a Member is declaring an OSI they must also disclose the interest and explain the nature of the interest at the meeting. The Member must withdraw from the meeting at the commencement of the consideration of any matter in which they have declared a OSI and must not participate in any discussion of, or vote taken on, the matter unless they have been granted a dispensation to do so or the meeting is one at which members of the public are permitted to speak for the purpose of making representations, answering questions or giving evidence relating to the matter. In the latter case, the Member may only participate on the same basis as a member of the public and cannot participate in any discussion of, or vote taken on, the matter and must withdraw from the meeting in accordance with the Council's procedure rules.

Voluntary Announcement of Other Interests (VAOI)

Where a Member does not have either a DPI or OSI but is of the opinion that for transparency reasons alone they should make an announcement in respect of a matter under consideration, they can make a VAOI. A Member declaring a VAOI may still remain at the meeting and vote on the matter under consideration.

Notes:

Situations in which a Member may wish to make a VAOI include membership of outside bodies that have made representatives on agenda items; where a Member knows a person involved, but does not have a close association with that person; or where an item would affect the well-being of a Member, relative, close associate, employer, etc. but not his/her financial position. It should be emphasised that an effect on the financial position of a Member, relative, close associate, employer, etc OR an application made by a Member, relative, close associate, employer etc would both probably constitute either an OSI or in some cases a DPI.

DOVER TOWN COUNCIL

Report to:

Finance and General Purposes Committee

Meeting date:

4 March 2024

Date written:

19 February 2024

From:

Cllr Susan Jones, Chairperson of the Council and Cllr John

Lamoon, Chairperson of the Finance & General Purposes

Committee

Subject:

Unreasonably Persistent or Vexatious Correspondence Policy

1. INTRODUCTION

Local government transparency is the openness with which a local authority or council runs its affairs. It represents how much the citizens of that authority can find out about all aspects of local government, including finances, decision-making and more.

The Local Government Transparency Code sets out the minimum requirements for local authorities to publish open data for re-use and in a timely way. Dover Town Council is committed to the Transparency Code and publishes papers, information and financial reports beyond what is required to comply with the law governing the provision of information in smaller authorities.

Under the Freedom of Information Act 2000, makes provision for disclosures of information by public authorities but there are many exemptions and protections particularly for personal data under that Act.

Dover Town Council retains an external Data Controller and Protection Officer in the form of a specialist provider, Satswana, and is registered as required with the Information Commissioner's Office.

2. INFORMATION

DTC receives very few Freedom of Information requests – on average one a year. But in the past year there have been 8, 7 of which have been repetitious, threatening in tone and sent by the same correspondent

The Office of the Information Commissioner along with many Councils in the U.K has come to recognise that there is a small number of people who use the provisions of the law on Freedom of Information for purposes such as bullying, nuisance, intimidation and harassment. They seek information not in the public interest – which is the fundamental basis for the legislation but for their own personal agendas of power, control and the harassment of those in the public sector

These individuals are generally termed vexatious. The law provides protection for local authorities from such people and their resource consuming demands. Section 14(1) of the Data Protection Act 2019 is designed to protect public authorities by allowing them to refuse any requests, which have the potential to cause a disproportionate or unjustified level of disruption, irritation or distress. The decision to classify a correspondent as vexatious or unreasonably persistent is currently vested in the Proper Officer of the Council by law.

Following advice from our Data Protection Provider, councillors are asked to adopt the attached policy which provides a clear framework and involves councillors alongside officers to manage these individuals and their time and resource-consuming correspondence which distracts and detracts from the serious business of the Council in improving the quality of life for those who live, work and visit in Dover.

Six points to consider for vexatiousness/unreasonably persistent correspondents

- Unreasonable and persistent and against the burden of compliance;
- Frequent or overlapping requests;
- Harassment or distress being caused;
- Fishing attempt;
- Frivolous request;
- Inappropriate language or behaviours.

Add to this;

- Burden of compliance compared to the question of whether the issue is raised "in the public interest";
- Value or seriousness of purpose;
- Motive;
- Harassment or distress.

3. DECISION

Committee is asked to resolve to recommend to Council the adoption of the Unreasonably Persistent or Vexatious Correspondence Policy.

Statutory Powers – Local Government Act 1972, Data Protection Act 2019 and Freedom of Information Act 2000

Dover Town Council

Unreasonably Persistent or Vexatious Correspondence

POLICY

1. Introduction

Dover Town Council does not tolerate bullying, harassment or intimidation, in any form, of any of their employees or Councillors. This applies to such behaviour from members of the public and Town Council employees and Councillors alike. A small percentage of people may correspond with Dover Town Council in a way that could reasonably be described as obsessive, harassing, bullying, intimidating or abusive

2. Harassment

Under the Protection from Harassment Act 1977 S1(1)

A person must not pursue a course of conduct—

(a) which amounts to harassment of another, and

(b) which he knows or ought to know amounts to harassment of the other.

Such action can be:

- · Physical Conduct;
- Verbal Conduct;
- Non-Verbal Conduct.

3. Bullying

The council defines bullying as a pattern of offensive, intimidating, malicious, insulting, humiliating behaviour intended to undermine an individual or group, gradually and as a consequence eroding their confidence and capability possibly with the intention to stop them carrying out a particular activity/duty or force them to resign and this will not be tolerated.

Such behaviour may also be designed to annoy and/or to create extreme workload for a Town Council which normally employs a small number of officers.

Such behaviour might also be designed to cause extreme distress.

Such behaviour might also be repetitious.

Such behaviour from a minority of individuals can take up a disproportionate amount of limited council resources and can affect the Parish Council's ability to do its work and provide a service to the community and can result in unacceptable stress for the Clerk, other Employees and Councillors.

4. Defining Vexatious or Unreasonably Persistent Correspondence

Vexatious or unreasonably persistent correspondence can be characterised in the following ways:

- Correspondence which is obsessive, persistent, harassing, prolific, repetitious and/or
- Which is designed to cause extreme distress, bully, humiliate and intimidate specific individuals and the Corporate Body and/or
- Frequent correspondence timed to cause the council maximum disruption and workload and/or
- Correspondence which displays an insistence on pursuing unmeritorious issues, trivial points and/or unrealistic outcomes beyond all reason and/or
- Displays an insistence upon pursuing enquiries or issues in an unreasonable and abusive manner and/or
- Repeated and/or frequent and/or simultaneous requests for information, whether or not those requests are made under the access to information legislation, and/or
- Correspondence where ex-employees or third parties are contacted to try to undermine councillors or officers and/or
- Correspondence which has the effect of hindering the council's ability to go about its democratic business due to the extra workload generated;
- Correspondence where the aim is character assassination;
- Correspondence characterised by a refusal to accept that issues raised are not within the power of the Council to investigate, change or influence.

The Office of the Independent Adjudicator defines the characteristics of a 'frivolous' or 'vexatious' correspondence as:

- correspondence which is obsessive, persistent, harassing, prolific, repetitious
- insistence upon pursuing unmeritorious complaints and/or unrealistic outcomes beyond all reason
- insistence upon pursuing meritorious enquiries in an unreasonable manner
- correspondence which is designed to cause disruption or annoyance
- correspondence that lack any serious purpose or value.

5. Use of this Policy

In the first instance the Clerk will consult with the Chairperson of the Council/Mayor. With the Chairperson's/Mayor's agreement, the correspondent will be contacted in writing (also providing a copy of this policy), to explain why the behaviour is a concern and ask them to change their behaviour.

If the behaviours persist and Clerk or Councillors identify behaviour or correspondence that they think exhibits these characteristics, and which they believe may be vexatious or unreasonably persistent, they should refer it to full council under closed session.

• In exceptional circumstances (for example significant time until the next available meeting), the policy can be triggered by e-mail consultation with a minimum of 6 councillors including the Chairperson/Mayor or Deputy Mayor

If the council agrees with the assessment, it should prepare a brief statement of why it considers the correspondent or correspondence to be vexatious, including its effect upon the Officers, Councillors, the Body Corporate and/or the town. This should be accompanied by a report to the Council identifying the impacts, workload effects and resource implications, and, if resources allow, information about the related correspondence via email, telephone and letter, including information about whom the correspondence was addressed to, who it was copied to, and a brief description of each piece of correspondence.

Sanctions can include:

- · Being limited to communicating with one nominated officer;
- Receiving no responses to further enquiries and communications on the same matter if no substantive new issue is raised
- Receiving no responses to all enquiries and communications made to the council for 6 months if no substantive new issue is raised

6. Handling correspondence deemed to be vexatious

The Clerk will write to the correspondent advising them that their complaint and/or correspondence has been determined to be vexatious and giving the reason for that decision.

7. Process

The notification letter should state which sanction the council has imposed. The correspondent should be advised that the decision will be reviewed in six months from the date of the letter advising them that their complaint/correspondence is vexatious.

Sanctions can include:

- Being permitted to only communicate with one nominated member of the council or staff
- Being permitted to only communicate in a specific way, for example, letter rather than e-mail or telephone.
- Receiving no responses further enquiries and communications on the same matter if no substantive new issue is raised
- Receiving no responses to all enquiries and communications made to the council for 6 months if no substantive new issue is raised

Review of Sanction:

At the following full town council meeting which occurs six months after the correspondent has been advised that their complaint and/or correspondence is vexatious, that decision should be reviewed. The council should consider whether there has been any improvement in the vexatious behaviour over that time. The Clerk should write to the correspondent advising them of the outcome of the review. If the behaviour has improved, future correspondence can be treated in the normal way. If there has not been a significant improvement, the correspondence will continue to be treated as vexatious and will be reviewed annually

The decision to stop responding will never be taken lightly. We are able to say yes to all of the following:

- we have taken every reasonable step to address the correspondent's concerns
- the correspondent has been given a clear statement of your position and their options
- the correspondent contacts you repeatedly, making substantially the same points each time

The case to stop responding is stronger if you agree with one or more of these statements:

- their letters, emails, or telephone calls are often or always abusive or aggressive
- they make insulting personal comments about or threats towards staff
- you have reason to believe the individual is contacting you with the intention of causing disruption or inconvenience

We will not stop responding just because an individual is difficult to deal with or asks complex questions.

There is no route of appeal against the decision that a complaint or correspondence is vexatious.

8. Persistent communication on the same matter from multiple correspondents

If the persistent communication on one matter is from 4 or more correspondents, rather than from one complainant, the Clerk identifying the behaviour will draft a standard response to all further communications on that matter. As no sanctions are being imposed, this action can be triggered without approval at a full council meeting.

9. Review

This document shall be reviewed periodically.
